Bible Time

The story of the man who was healed on the Sabbath is a great story to answer this week's question - is Jesus good? The man in the story had a bad hand - he struggled to do lots of the things that you or I would be able to do quite easily. Jesus knew exactly what the man needed and even though many of the religious leaders thought it was wrong to do any work on the Sabbath, Jesus did what was right and good.

There are many other examples of the good things Jesus did - he healed many other people and even brought dead people back to life (more on that in a few weeks!) Jesus listened and took time with people, even people who others thought were not worth spending time on. Jesus gave people what they needed - words of advice, teaching and even food.

Jesus was honest and told the truth, he showed them the truth about God, and he taught them how to play. Everything that Jesus did was good and for our good.
